Columbus, March 30,-(Special.)-The administration election bill, prepared by Secretary of State Laylin and introduced in the senate by Mr. committee on elections, of which Mr. Hill, of Columbiana, is a member, today. It is possible the committee will intendent, is working in Lisbon and recommend that the bill be amended so as to provide for the holding of nomgineers, completing final details of the inations of all parties on the same day and place under regulations like those for state elections. This would safeguard the interest of the voters against the wiles of unscrupulous politicians.

The bill will undoubtedly become a law and will extend registration to all cities over 14,000 population. . It has been suggested that the people of Columbiana county might desire that Wellsville and Salem be included within the registration provision of the measure along with East Liverpool, and if there is any basis for this Representative Hill wishes to be acquainted with it. He stated to the reprewill bring about 150 families to Lis- sentative of this paper that he would like to hear at once from the people of the county on the subject. If the majority desire Salem and Wellsville to have registration he will use his best endeavors to have the bill amended in committee to require registration in all cities as classed as such by the municipal code.

Mr. Hill is exceedingly anxious that the legislature enact an election law which will supplant the present inequltable system which threatens to disrupt the Republican party in Columbiana county.

WILL PLAY BALL.

Pottery operatives are anticipating that they will have plenty of time to play base ball this summer if work remains as it is now and nearly every shop in the city will have teams, some of which have already been organized. A movement is on foot among the operatives at McNicol's to have a nine and it will be organized in plenty of time to open the season. The lineup will include some first-rate players and a challenge will be issued to any pottery team in the city. Tommy Lowndes, of the pressing shop, will don a uniform and will likely hold down first base. He made a reputation as a first sacker in the game played on last Labor day. He is a hard hitter, a fast runner and a gilt-edged fielder. Alf Woods, also of the pressing shop, will be in the lineup.

HEAD OF THE COMMISSION.

John A. Campbell, general manager of the Trenton Potteries company, has been named by Governor Murphy as the head of the new tenement house commission created by the New Jersey legislature. Mr. Campbell was president of the temporary commission appointed by the governor some time ago to investigate the tenement house conditions throughout the state and was renamed as president of the permanent commission, which is to continue the investigation. Were it not for his modesty Mr. Campbell might have almost any political position in the city. He has been offered the nomination for the mayoralty, but steadfastly refused to go into politics. He has been president of the Young Men's Christian association several Roy H. Calhoun, who has been one of the most valuable office men in the employ of the Potters' Credit association for a number of years, has resigned his position. Mr. Calhoun will go to Pittsburg, where he has taken a situation with the International Mercantile agency. The Pittsburg concern is capitalized at $3,000,000 and is backed by several of the best known financiers of the country. Mr. Calhoun is well posted in his business and will undoubtedly make a success in his new location.

DEFEATED THE BILL.

One of the bills which failed to get through the New Jersey legislature was that providing for the licensing of stationary engineers. The mine superintendent at the Harwick mine near Pittsburg stated to the coroner's jury that the recent disaste: in which 178 lives were lost could have been prevented had the law been complied with and proper precautions taken against accident. This is a start ling admission, and yet it is probably true, not only of the Harwick disaster, but of most mine disasters. "Taking chances" where human life is at stake is a desperate game and the practice ought to be checked with a stern hand. WOMEN FORBIDDEN TO ENTER SALOONS

Wine Rooms Are Being Abolished By Liquor Dealers' Action.

THE MOVE IS VOLUNTARY

Police Are Determined to Make the City Better and All Suspicious Places Are Being Closely Watched. Mayor Fogo's Ultimatum.

molishing all the wine rooms in connection with the Wellsville saloons. Women have been forbidden to enter some places, and other saloonkeepers are about to issue a similar order to those in charge of their places.

In one saloon on Third street, where there were for a number of years about six wine rooms, none are there now. Carpenters have been tearing them out during the past few days and other wine rooms will soon meet the fate of those in the Third street saloon.

The proposition to introduce a wine coom ordinance in the Welisville council is not the cause of the rooms being abolished at this time. The saloonkeepers have taken this action upon themselves. It is alleged that an agreement has been reached among the Wellsville saloonkeepers to get rid of all wine rooms, and that hereafter no women will be allowed to enter a

Another saloonkeeper on Third street has issued orders to those in charge of his place during his absence to allow no women to enter any part of the building. Those who at first failed to take kindly to the idea of abolishing the wine rooms, and admit women to their places have changed their minds, and are now agreeing to the proposition

The fact that these wire rooms in ome instances are the scenes of worse than drinking practices is known to the police and saloonkeepers who have run such resorts are now under the eve of the officers.

The exclusive publication in this ewspaper last evening of the proposal of Mayor Fogo to put a tight lid on cerned, created no end of talk in Wellsville last night. There can be no getting around the fact that the police are determined to make Wells-ville a better city. Every saloon in Wellsville will be carefully watched by the police every Sunday hereafter. Sunday selling has got to stop, and if the saloonkeepers persist in violating the city ordinances egarding Sunday selling, they will be compelled to pay a fine, that will increase every time they appear before Mayor Fogo. The old story of cleaning saloons out on Sunday morning will have to be supplemented with a new tale hereafter. The police contend there is no need for this. If the saloonkeepers want to clean out their places after they are closed to trade Saturday night, nothing will be said, but on Sunday the blinds and screens shall be drawn aside to give a clear view of the interior of such a saloon. The police contend that if the saloons are cleaned out after closing hours Saturday night, there will be no neces sity for them to be kept open Sunday, as is the case in Columbus, where a! most all closing hour laws are completely ignored.

IDEA IS MUCH FAVORED

And Members of the Ohio Delegation Are Working With Pennsylvania Congressmen to Carry It Into Effect-Historic Victory of 1813.

The battle of Lake Erie was fought ear Put-in-Bay, September 10, 1813

Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, with nine vessels, viz: the brigs Lawrence, Niagara and Caledonia and the Scorpion, Ariel, Somers, Porcupine, Tigress and Tripp with 54 guns and 490 officers and men, commanded the American fleet.

Captain Barclay, with six vessels, viz: the ships Detroit and Queen Charlotte, the schooner Lady Prevost, the brig Hunter, and the smaller vessels Chippeway and Little Belt with 65 guns and 502 officers and men, commanded the English fleet.

Perry's flagship, the Lawrence, was riddled with shot. In the face of a terrific fire, he transferred his flag to the Niagara and Saline through the British line, and delivering a flerce cross fire, won the victory.

Congress probably will pass, at this sesssion, the bill authorizing an appro-

The building was already crowded with worshipers kneeling or sitting on the floor of the church in great masses. Soldiers were to be seen on all sides, some standing leaning on their loaded guns and others walking about trying to keep order. At times they treated the pilgrims roughly.

We were directed to a gallery halfway up the dome, reserved for spec tators. Here were American and English tourists, some Latin visitors and a few Turkish officials, who looked on with satirical amusement. Jews are not allowed in this building. Below our gallery was another, occupied by Greek and Armenian women. They as well as the thousands of pilgrims in the body of the church held tapers.

As we looked down from our high balcony the church seemed to be one dense mass of human beings jostling each other in an excited manner in their indenvor to get as close as possible to the Chapel of the Sepulcher, where heaven was to manifest its power. On each side of this chapel there are openings for the fire to issue forth, or tie right hand for the Greeks and on the left for the Armenians. Toward these openings all arms were eagerly outretched. The pilgrims waited breathlessly for the fire to appear so as to light their tapers from it and thus receive the sacred fire first hand. They consider that there is special merit in securing the fire direct from the interior of the sepulcher. For the privi-

Collision Between Battleships Illinois and Missouri Unavoidable.

BOTH CAPTAINS EXONERATED

President's Brother-in-Law, Captain W. S. Cowles, of the Missouri Failed to Give Collision Signals to the Illinois.

Washington, March 30.-The report of the court of inquiry on the investi gation of the collision between bat tleships Missouri, commanded by Cap tain Cowles, brother-in-law of the pres ident, and the Illinois, commanded by Captain Bradford, recommends that no further proceedings be taken, and its action is approved by Rear Admiral Barker, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic station. Accompanying the report are opinions by the judge advocate general and by Admiral Dewey, each of whom concurs in the recommendation.

The court says: "The court is of the opinion that the collision was not due to fault or negligence on the part of the commanding officer or any officer or man of the Illinois. On board the Missouri Captain Cowles gave the necessary orders for immediately reversing the engines for full speed astern, repeated the signal as eme"gency signal, and ordered the display of the signal which should warn the Illinois of the Missouri's breakdown and movements, but failed to indicate the course of starboard by one blast of the whistle, and of backing by three blasts, in addition to or in advance of the speed cone signals, and also failed to sound the siren as a call for collision when collision became inevitable. The orders for the display of the signal by dispatch flag was not obeyed by the officer of the deck, Lieutenant W. Pittscott, U. S. N., or was not obeyed with sufficient Illinois while the absence of prescribed whistle signals left the captain of the Illinois in absolute ignorance of the Missouri's actual movements.

"This failure to convey to the Illinois direct and immediate information as to actual conditions on board the Missouri was in the opinion of the court, after the accident to the steering engine, the secondary cause of the collision. The court lays stress on the fact shown in evidence that the Missouri was an undrilled ship, newly | slayer escaped.

at the isthmus. "There is hardly anything that I can say regarding our plans. No contracts will be let, as the canal is not yet actually sure."

When told that William Nelson Cromwell had said that the commission would act as if the United States actually had entire possession of the property, the rear admiral said:

"That is not so, and I do not think that Mr. Cromwell intended to contion of labor and of contracts an! supplies, these are things too far ahead to be talked of at this time."

ALARM WAS FALSE. Alleged Plot Against the President Proved Baseless.

New York, March 30 .- The story of an alleged plot to assassinate President Roosevelt, which upon investiga tion proved to be entirely without foundation, has been made public by Police Commissioner McAdoo.

Several days ago the commissioner received a letter from an Italian in Italy saying that anotherf Italian was about to come to this country for the express purpose of assassinating the president. The writer gave a detailed description of the anarchist, the steamer on which he would sail, and full details of the alleged plot. When the steamer docked an inspector was on hand with a large squad of detectives and the suspect was found an! detained. Investigation, however, showed that the case was purely one of spite on the part of the man who wrote the letter. It was found that the detained man was not an anarchist and that he had a perfect right to enter this country. He was allowed to land. The object of the letter, it was learned, was to have the man de-

Collision Between Battleships Illinois and Missouri Unavoidable.

BOTH CAPTAINS EXONERATED

President's Brother in-Law, Captain W. S. Cowles, of the Missouri, Failed to Give Collision Signals to the Illinois.

Washington, March 30 .- The report of the court of inquiry on the investigation of the collision between battleships Missouri, commanded by Captain Cowles, brother-in-law of the pres ident, and the Illinois, commanded by Captain Bradford, recommends that no further proceedings be taken, and its action is approved by Rear Admiral Barker, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic station. Accompanying the report are opinions by the judge advocate general and by Admiral Dewey, each of whom concurs in the recommendation.

The court says: "The court is of the opinion that the collision was not due to fault or negligence on the part of the commanding officer or any officer or man of the Illinois. On board the Missouri Captain Cowles gave the necessary orders for immediately reversing the engines for full speed astern, repeated the signal as emegency signal, and ordered the display of the signal which should warn the Illinois of the Missouri's breakdown and movements, but failed to indicate the course of starboard by one blast of the whistle, and of backing by three blasts, in addition to or in advance of the speed cone signals, and also failed to sound the siren as a call for collision when collision became inevitable. The orders for the display of the signal by dispatch flag was not obeyed by the officer of the deck, Lieutenant W. Pittscott, U. S. N., or was not obeyed with sufficien! promptness to be of service to the Illinois while the absence of prescribed whistle signals left the captain of the Illinois in absolute ignorance of the Missouri's actual movements.

"This failure to convey to the Illinois direct and immediate information as to actual conditions on board the Missouri was in the opinion of the court, after the accident to the steering engine, the secondary cause of the collision. The court lays stress on the fact shown in evidence that the Missouri was an undrilled ship, newly | slayer escaped.

SANITATION EXPERTS GO ALONG

Rear Admiral Walker, Chairman, Says No Contracts Will Be Let for Some Time-All depends Upon Close of Preliminary Deals.

New York, March 30.-The Panama canal commission has sailed for They will inspect the route of the canal and look over some of the documents of the canal, preparatory to the delivery of the property to the United States government. They probably will remain at the isthmus about two months.

The commission consists of Rear Admiral John G. Walker, Major General George W. Davis of the District of Columbia; William Barclay Parsons and William H. Burr, New York; Benjamin M. Harrod, Louisiana; Ewald Grunsky, California, and Colonel Frank Hecker, Detroit.

The commissioners were accompanied by Colonel Gorgas, assistant surgeon general of the army; Dr. Lewis LaGarde of the medical department of the army, and Dr. John W.

Ross, medical director of the nav; Roger Farnham, representing William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for the Panama Canal company, also sailed on the same vessel.

The medical men who go with the had fired three torpedoes in an effort commission will make an inspection to sink the Korietz. of the canal route with particular re spect to the sanitary conditions and the canal zone.

"Our present plan," said Rear Admiral Walker, "is to go over the route of the canal, making an investigation of the work done, the improvements that are necessary, and the ar rangements that will have to be made for proper sanitation of the district. We shall begin our tour of inspection as soon as possible after our arrival at the isthmus.

"There is hardly anything that I can say regarding our plans. No contracts will be let, as the canal is not yet actually sure."

When told that William Nelson Cromwell had said that the commission would act as if the United States actually had entire possession of the property, the rear admiral said:

"That is not so, and I do not think that Mr. Cromwell intended to convey that impression. As to the ques tion of labor and of contracts an! supplies, these are things too far ahead to be talked of at this time."

ALARM WAS FALSE.

Alleged Plot Against the President Proved Baseless. New York, March 30.-The story of an alleged plot to assassinate President Roosevelt, which upon investigation proved to be entirely without foundation, has been made public by Police Commissioner McAdoo. Several days ago the commissioner received a letter from an Italian in Italy saying that anotherf Italian was about to come to this country for the express purpose of assassinating the president. The writer gave a detailed description of the anarchist, the steamer on which he would sail, and full details of the alleged plot. When the steamer docked an inspector was on hand with a large squad of detectives and the suspect was found an! detained. Investigation, however, showed that the case was purely one of spite on the part of the man who wrote the letter. It was found that the detained man was not an anarchist and that he had a perfect right to enter this country. He was allowed to land. The object of the letter, is was learned, was to have the man de-

Pavloff, the Russian minister to Ko rea, met the Japanese cruiser and torpedo squadron, while still in neutral SHORT AND TO THE POINT waters. Being unsuspicious, the Korietz steamed between the two divis ions of the squadron with the tarpaulins still covering the guns on the Russian vessel, but it was not until the torpedo boats began to manoeuvre preparatory to torpoeding that these on board the Korietz became really alarmed. It was then decided to put back into the harbor.

While the Korietz was going about the Japanese launched a torpedo which passed astern, and then the captain ordered "quarters" sounded. The Japanese launched another torpedo, but it was only when a third torpedo was seen coming directly for the Korietz's beam that the command was given to open fire two shots were fired. The third torpedo sank just lefore reaching the Korietz.

The officer's letter also says that when next day the captain of the British cruiser Talbot, at the request of the captain of the Russian cruise: Variag, asked the Japanese admiral almost impossible to shake off. It why the Korietz had been attacked, he at once offensive and disagreeab replied that war had been declared at two o'clock the day before.

CHAPTER XV.

ORE than one along the south road that sultry morning of July 4 turned to gaze after a fair haired girl who passed upon a lead-white horse, with a negro boy behind her astride a sorrel. Yellow dust splotched Anne's olive cloak as she rode into the town, and yellow dust clung to John the Baptist's wool.

How many leagues? She would have been worn but for the purpose that buoyed her up. She rode some way, paying as little heed to the sparse groups along the streets or to the few painted Indians lounging with their peltry in the squares as to the beetle browed roofs or the wooden statuary in the oretentious vards.

Her thoughts were busy with the past. They flew back to that night at Gladden Hall, her last view of Armand, when Jarrat's troopers had dragged him away; to the flight of Dunmore and his family, his wanton burning of Norfolk with his rabble of runaway slaves. and the last fight at Gwyn's island, whence the impotent earl, with his brutal aid, Captain Foy, sailed away to the north, never again to set foot upon Virginian soil; to her anguished wonder as to Armand's fate meanwhile. Even Henry's return from the Second congress, the news that Colonel Washington had been elected commander in chief of colonial forces and the glorious outcome of his long siege of Boston had not been able to cheer her.

She thought of the long hours she had watched by the bedside of the bondwoman with grave faced Dr. Craik watching her slow return to life; sat by the listless figure who only stared leaden eyed and with brain piteously dulled to hear asked over and shook his jowl. over again with desperate earnestness that same question, "Where is itcan't you remember?"-a question met always with the same result; of the long, fruitless search, the unreasoning faith in him that would not yield to recital or argument, and finally the lucky accident which had given her the clew to the packet's hiding place.

She had started the selfsame day, taking John the Baptist with her, leaving a hurried message for her uncle and aunt, who were then away in Richmond. And this, the twelfth day thereriding into the wide, clean thoroughfares of Philadelphia.

"Mis' Annie"-John the Baptist's solemn drawl broke her reverie-"dat yaller boy at de place whar we stayed las' night say dee gwinter mek ev'ybody Red Lion tavern. ekal. Do dat mean we niggers gwine ter be white lak you, or is y'all gwine

Joseph Galloway, standing by him, looked at the girl, so straight and young and bright hued; then his crafty look returned. "Consider the lilies of the field," he quoted with unction as he took snuff.

"I doubt not," pursued the Quaker, wagging his pow, "'twas designed to cast a slur upon the vanity of apparel since 'tis a thing of so little estimation in the sight of God that he bestows it in the highest degree upon the meanes of his creatures. 'Tis to be presumed that, were it a thing of worth in itself, instead of bestowing colors, gildings and broideries upon tulips, he had be stowed them upon creatures of higher dignity. "Even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these!" intoned his companion smoothly. "But I must be going. Mordecai. I have an errand at the tavern."

"Hast thou heard aught more of the message to the congress from France?" the Quaker inquired in a low voice as of the still longer days when she had he clasped the other's fervid palm. Galloway put his lips closer to the other's ear, and a glutinous chuckle

"Mordecai," he said, "I dreamed last night that France had an ax to grind. Wouldn't it be curious if the message after all? Ho, ho!"

Anne's first inquiry provoked a smile he was on the floor at that moment?

So she rode on. At High street she Pa. Inquired for an inn, as she had been in after, found her at her journey's end the saddle since dawn and the horses were jaded. Learning that the principal ones were all full owing to the presence of the delegates, she found her way to one of the more humble hostelries on another street. It was the Addition to Capitol Proposed by Members of Congress.

Washington, March 30 .- For the want of speakers' general debate on the sundry civil appropriation bill in the house was closed several hours before the time agreed on and the bill was read for amendment. Seventyfive pages were disposed of. A new paragraph was agreed appropriating $500 000 for the extension and completion of the Capitol building in ac cordance with the original plans of the late Thomas U. Walter. The total cost of the work is limited to

Mr. Campbell of Kansas and Mr. Williams of Mississippi were the principal speakers, the former defending the protective tariff policy and the latter denouncing the Republicans for failing to investigate the postoffice de partment. Mr. Williams said that the scandals of the department will be come an important issue in the com ing campaign. He arraigned Presi dent Roosevelt and Attorney General Knox regarding the trusts. Before he came into office the president, he said, was recognized as a "trust bus ter." but since then all his indic: ments against the trusts were at once turned into apologies. He said the president was a "harmless agitator." and declared him to be an unsafe man.

The bill authorizing the erection of an additional executive department building in Washington was again the subject of spirited debate in the seaate and after several hours' debate it remained unacted upon. Senators divided largely on the question of loca tion, but there also was talk as to the necessity of better office accommoda tions for the senate and the supreme court.

There was renewed effort to pass the bill prohibiting the misbranding of salmon, but owing to the opposition of senators to hold that the bill is cal culated to interfere with the rights of individual states under the guise of an effort to control interstate commerce a vote was not reached.

Senator Foraker proposed an amendment to the sundry civil bill to appropriate $180,000 for the purchase of military post at or near Columbus, O.

CHAPTER XV.

ORE than one along the south road that sultry morning of July 4 turned to gaze after a fair haired girl who passed upon a lead-white horse, with a negro boy behind her astride a sorrel. Yellow dust splotched Anne's olive cloak as she | Friend Joseph; lust of the eye!" rode into the town, and yellow dust clung to John the Baptist's wool.

How many leagues? She would have been worn but for the purpose that buoyed her up. She rode some way, paying as little heed to the sparse groups along the streets or to the few painted Indians lounging with their peltry in the squares as to the beetle browed roofs or the wooden statuary in the pretentious yards.

Her thoughts were busy with the past. They flew back to that night at Gladden Hall, her last view of Armand, when Jarrat's troopers had dragged him away; to the flight of Dunmore and his family, his wanton burning of Norfolk with his rabble of runaway slaves, and the last fight at Gwyn's island, whence the impotent earl, with his brutal aid, Captain Foy, sailed away to the north, never again to set foot upon Virginian soil; to her anguished wonder as to Armand's fate meanwhile. Even Henry's return from the Second congress, the news that Colonel Washington had been elected commander in chief of colonial forces and the glorious outcome of his long siege of Boston had not been able to cheer her.

She thought of the long hours she had watched by the bedside of the bondwoman with grave faced Dr. Craik watching her slow return to life; of the still longer days when she had sat by the listless figure who only stared leaden eyed and with brain piteously dulled to hear asked over and over again with desperate earnestness that same question, "Where is itcan't you remember?"-a question met always with the same result; of the long, fruitless search, the unreasoning faith in him that would not yield to recital or argument, and finally the lucky accident which had given her the clew to the packet's hiding place. She had started the selfsame day, taking John the Baptist with her, leaving a hurried message for her uncle and aunt, who were then away in Richmond. And this, the twelfth day thereriding into the wide, clean thoroughfares of Philadelphia.

To mankind he hath given but sparingly of gaudy features, a great part of them being black, a great part of them being tawny and a great part being of other wan and dusky complexions, showing that 'tis not the outward adornment that he wishes, but the appearing in supplication for the ornamenting of the Spirit."

"Even Solomon in all his glory wa not arrayed like one of these!" intoned his companion smoothly. "But I must be going, Mordecai. I have an errand at the tavern."

"Hast thou heard aught more of the message to the congress from France? the Quaker inquired in a low voice as he clasped the other's fervid palm. Galloway put his lips closer to the other's ear, and a glutinous chuckle shook his jowl.

Mr Campbell of Kansas and Mr Williams of Mississippi were the principal speakers, the former defending the protective tariff policy and the latter denouncing the Republicans for 'tis a clever enough forgery to trick failing to investigate the postoffice de partment. Mr. Williams said that the scandals of the department will be come an important issue in the com ing campaign. He arraigned Presi dent Roosevelt and Attorney Genera Knox regarding the trusts. Before he came into office the president, h said, was recognized as a "trust bus ter." but since then all his indic ments against the trusts were at onc turned into apologies. He said the president was a "harmless agitator, and declared him to be an unsafe man.

The bill authorizing the erection of an additional executive department building in Washington was again the subject of spirited debate in the sea ate and after several hours' debate it remained unacted upon. Senators divided largely on the question of location, but there also was talk as to the necessity of better office accommoda tions for the senate and the supreme court.

There was renewed effort to pas the bill prohibiting the misbranding of salmon, but owing to the opposition of senators to hold that the bill is ca! culated to interfere with the rights of individual states under the guise of an effort to control interstate commerce a vote was not reached.

Senator Foraker proposed an amend ment to the sundry civil bill to appro priate $180,000 for the purchase of a military post at or near Columbus, O.

COSSACKS ARE DRIVEN OFF

Lively Outpost Affair in Which Losses on Part of Czar's Soldiers Are Slight, According to Report of Commander of Detachment.

St. Petersburg, March 30.-General Kuropatkin in his first report to the emperor from the scene of war announced that offensive land operations had taken place against the Japanese upon the sixth anniversary of the occupation of Port Arthur by the Russians. These operations took the form of a cavalry attack by six companies of Cossacks, led personally by General Mishtchenko against four squadrons of Japanese cavalry, which the general believed beyond Chong-Ju, but he found no occupation of that

Despite a cross fire which General Mishtchenko cleverly discharged against the enemy, he pays a tribute to their tenacity and bravery, the Japanese only ceasing to fire after a combat which lasted for half an hour. Before the Russians could follow up their advantage three Japanese squadrons galloped toward the town, which two of them succeeded in entering, while the third was driven back in disorder, men and horses falling. The fire maintained from the town was so destructive that the Japanese were unable to make an effectiv return.

Further Japanese reinforcements arrived an hour later and in view of the superiority of the enemy General Mishtchenko determined to retire, doing so without embarrassment, al though he carried with him three killed and 16 wounded.

General Kuropatkin's report says: I have the honor to respectfully communicate to your majesty the report of General Mishtchenke, dated March 28, at 10 p. m., which says:

Sent Cavalry After Japs.

"For three consecutive days our small outposts attempted to draw the Japanese cavalry into action, but their patrols, after contact was established. retired beyond Chong-Ju (about 50 miles northwest of Ping Yang).

"Having learned that four squadrons of the enemy were posted five versts beyond Chong-Ju, on March 27 six companies marched toward Kasan and on March 28 reached Chong-Ju a 10:30 a. m. As soon as our scouts approached the town the enemy opened fire from behind the wall. Two squadrons promptly dismounted and occupied the heights 600 yards distant. An engagement ensued.

"In the town a company of infantry and a squadron of cavalry were lying in ambush. Our men were reinforced by three companies and attacked the Japanese with a cross fire. Notwithstanding this, and our commanding position, the Japanese gallantly held their ground, and it was only after a fierce fight of half an hour's duration that the Japanese ceased fire an! sought refuge in the houses. The Japanese hoisted the Red Cross flag at two noints

"Soon afterward three squadrons of the enemy were seen advancing along the Kasan road at full gallop toward the town, which two of the squadrons succeeded in entering, while the third feil back in disorder under repeated volleys from our troops. A number of men and horses were seen to fall. "For an hour afterward our companies continued to fire on the Japanese in the town, preventing them from leaving the streets and houses.

Japanese Are Reinforced. "An hour and a half after the be ginaing of the engagement four companies were seen on the Kasan road hastening to attack. I gave the order to mount, and the entire force, with a covering squadron, advanced in perfect order and formed in line behind the hill. The wounded were placed in front and the retirement was carried out with the deliberation of a

"The Japanese squadron which was thrown into disorder was evidently unable to occupy the hill which we had just evacuated, and their infantry arrived too late.

Cured, After Suffering 16 Years With Rheumatism and Skin Disease. Mr. Wm. Cannon, of Minerva, Ohio, writes:

Minerva, Ohio, Dec. 23, 1903. Being an invalid for Sixteen years with Rheumatism and Skin Diseases, and tried almost all known remedies with no permanent results, I was advised to try LIFE PLANT; was so bad could not walk at all, not even with crutches or canes. From Nov. 1902, was compelled to sit in chair, only while in bed; commenced taking LIFE PLANT on Feb. 1st, 1903, on March 15th could walk all through the house with my crutches, six weeks after starting on LIFE PLANT. Two months after taking same, when weather is fine, walk out through garden. Bowels were very irregular less than two months, became very regular and have continued so ever since. At night after getting ready for bed since April 1st, walk to my bed without any assistance at all; so much for LIFE PLANT.

This can be proven up by my neighbors and friends.

Yours respectfully, WM. CANNON.

Life Plant is absolutely the only permanent and safe home cure for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Trouble and all Blood Diseases. It kills the germ of disease. Uric acid poison causes Rheumatism, Life Plant drives it out and cures the disease; it soothes inflammation-mends the delicate tissues-restores energy, vim and vigor and makes the body strong. We guarantee that Life Plant will absolutely cure you. What more should you ask? Costs nothing if it fails. Life Plant is made of herbs—contains no drugs—and is a safe remedy even for a child. It cures by purifying the blood and if the blood is pure you can have no disease. Physicians prescribe Life Plant; some use it in their families. Hospitals use it. If you are in need of a tonic, Life Plant is just the one you should take, ask for Life Plant and be sure you get it. Substitutes are very often dangerous. Write for booklet to Russian General Says His Force Was Outnumbered at Chong-Ju.

COSSACKS ARE DRIVEN OFF

Lively Outpost Affair in Which Losses on Part of Czar's Soldiers Are Slight, According to Report of Commander of Detachment.

St. Petersburg, March 30.-General Kuropatkin in his first report to the emperor from the scene of war announced that offensive land operations had taken place against the Japanese upon the sixth anniversary of the occupation of Port Arthur by the Russians. These operations took the form of a cavalry attack by six companies of Cossacks, led personally by General Mishtchenko against four squadrons of Japanese cavalry, which the general believed beyond Chong-Ju, but he found no occupation of that

Despite a cross fire which General Mishtchenko cleverly discharged against the enemy, he pays a tribute to their tenacity and bravery, the Japanese only ceasing to fire after a combat which lasted for half an hour. Before the Russians could follow up their advantage three Japanese squadrons galloped toward the town, which two of them succeeded in entering, while the third was driven back in disorder, men and horses falling. The fire maintained from the town was so destructive that the Japanese were unable to make an effectiv return.

Further Japanese reinforcements arrived an hour later and in view of the superiority of the enemy General Mishtchenko determined to retire, doing so without embarrassment, although he carried with him three killed and 16 wounded.

General Kuropatkin's report says: I have the honor to respectfully communicate to your majesty the report of General Mishtchenke, dated March 28, at 10 p. m., which says:

Sent Cavalry After Japs.

"For three consecutive days our small outposts attempted to draw the Japanese cavalry into action, but their patrols, after contact was established, retired beyond Chong-Ju (about 50 miles northwest of Ping

"Having learned that four squadrons of the enemy were posted five versts beyond Chong-Ju, on March 27 six companies marched toward Kasan and on March 28 reached Chong-Ju a 10:30 a. m. As soon as our scouts approached the town the enemy opened fire from behind the wall. Two squadrons promptly dismounted and occupied the heights 600 yards distant. An engagement ensued.

"In the town a company of infantry and a squadron of cavalry were lying in ambush. Our men were reinforced by three companies and attacked the Japanese with a cross fire. Notwithstanding this, and our commanding position, the Japanese gallantly held fierce fight of half an hour's duration that the Japanese ceased fire and sought refuge in the houses. The Japanese hoisted the Red Cross flag at two points.

"Soon afterward three squadrons of the enemy were seen advancing along the Kasan road at full gallop toward the town, which two of the squadrons succeeded in entering, while the third feil back in disorder under repeated volleys from our troops. A number of men and horses were seen to fall

"An hour and a half after the baginning of the engagement four companies were seen on the Kasan road hastening to attack. I gave the order to mount, and the entire force, with a covering squadron, advanced in perfect order and formed in line behind the hill. The wounded were placed in front and the retirement was carried out with the deliberation of a

LIFE PLANT

Would Completely Cure You.

Cured, After Suffering 16 Years With Rheumatism and Skin Disease. Mr. Wm. Cannon, of Minerva. Ohio, writes:

Minerva, Ohio, Dec. 23, 1903.

Being an invalid for Sixteen years with Rheumatism and Skin Diseases, and tried almost all known remedies with no permanent results, I was advised to try LIFE PLANT; was so bad could not walk at al!, not even with crutches or canes. From Nov. 1902, was compelled to sit in chair, only while in bed; commenced taking LIFE PLANT on Feb. 1st, 1903, on March 15th could walk all through the house with my crutches, six weeks after starting on LIFE PLANT. Two months after taking same, when weather is fine, walk out through garden. Bowels were very irregular less than two months, became very regular and have continued so ever since. At night after getting ready for bed since April 1st, walk to my bed without any assistance at all; so much for LIFE PLANT.

This can be proven up by my neighbors and friends.

Yours respectfully,

WM. CANNON.

Life Plant is absolutely the only permanent and safe home cure for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Trouble and all Blood Diseases. It kills the germ of disease. Uric acid poison causes Rheumatism, Life Plant drives it out and cures the disease; it soothes inflammation—mends the delicate tissues—restores energy, vim and vigor and makes the body strong. We guarantee that Life Plant will absolutely cure you. What more should you ask? Costs nothing if it fails. Life Plant is made of herbs—contains no drugs—and is a safe remedy even for a child. It cures by purifying the blood and if the blood is pure you can have no disease. Physicians prescribe Life Plant; some use it in their families. Hospitals use it. If you are in need of a tonic, Life Plant is just the one you should take, ask for Life Plant and be sure you get it. Substitutes are very often dangerous. Write for booklet to

But while trained men have been stationed at every strategic point throughout the war zone they have not been able to break through the rigid censorship established by the belligerents. Practically the only information that has been given to the world has come through the Associated Press.

The success of the Associated Press was made possible by the foresight of Mr. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the organization. Recognizing that perhaps St. Petersburg would be the most important point for news during the war, Mr. Stone early in the present year visited Russia and while there had a personal audience with the czar. At that time he succeeded in assuring the czar that the Associated Press would be impartial in its reports in the event of war and in return received the czar's assurance that the St. Petersburg bureau would be

Contrary to the popular idea, the war between Russia and Japan is not welcomed by the newspapers. More copies are sold, but the cost of making the newspaper is vastly increased. A newspaper to keep pace with its conas well as keep in touch with the headquarters of the contending armies. In some cases syndicates are formed, but most of the big newspapers of this country have anywhere from three to a dozen skilled writers on their payrolls in eastern Asia.

The cost of cablegrams is a still heavier item of expense. For instance, from Chefu to New York the cable rate for press dispatches is 42 cents a word, and the same rate is charged from Tientsin and Shanghai, From Port Arthur via the Pacific cable the rate is $1.02 a word, and from Tokyo it costs 54 cents a word to transmit a press message. From Vladivostok and Chemulpo no press rates are made, and messages must be paid for in advance at the full rate, which is about three times higher. The following incident illustrates the expense of cabling war news: In the American newspapers on Monday, July 16, 1900, was a dispatch from Tientsin, China, which recounted the fact that the allied forces were fighting the Chinese troops in that city and, what was of the gravest human interest in the United States, the further fact that the Ninth regiment of United States

The regulations of the Japanese gov ernment in regard to messages are a source of great annoyance to corre spondents and seriously interfere with their work. WHAT'S BRED IN THE BONE

Is true of mankind as well as lower animals. We do not expect blooded stock from common sires, physical giants from dwarfs and midgets, nor well-developed, robust children from tainted ancestors and sickly parents. It is contrary to the laws of nature and heredity, which are inviolable, unchangeable and fixed.

Children not only inherit the features, form and disposition of their parents, but the mental and physical qualities, infirmities and diseases as well. That certain diseases are transmitted from parents to children, are bred in the bone and handed down from one generation to another, can not be denied, for we see evidences of it every where and every day.

SCROFULA, a disease almost as fatal as Consumption, is a disease of the blood, is bred in the bone and will out in the flesh in the form of glandular swellings, deep abscesses and sores, boils and eruptions. It affects the eyes and ears, weakens the digestion and destroys the red corpuscles and solids of the blood, resulting in emaciation, stunted growth and poorly nourished bodies.

RHEUMATISM is handed down from gouty ancestors and rheumatic parents. The acid poisons in the blood that cause the sharp, shooting pains in muscles and joints have been there may be from birth, and exposure to bad weather, night air, or cold, easterly winds only hastens the attack by exciting the acid blood. The blood must be purified and the poisons filtered out of the system in order to get relief from this painful disease.

CATARRH is something more than a cold in the head; the poison extends into the Throat and Lungs, attacks the Stomach, Kidneys and Bladder, and every part of the system. We inherit a predisposition or tendency to Catarrh, just like other blood diseases; it is bred in the bone and can not be reached with sprays and salves, but requires constitutional treatment and a thorough cleansing of the disease-tainted blood.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON is responsible for more suffering than all other diseases combined, and none is so surely transmitted from parent to child. Fearful ulcers and sores and disgusting skin eruptions often break out in infancy, and those whose blood is tainted with this awful poison are handicapped from birth, and unless the poison is eradicated carry the taint through life.

CANCEROUS ULCERS and old sores seem to pursue some families through generations, and in spite of washes, salves and ointments, continue to spread and grow because the taint is in the blood; is bred in the bone and grounded in the flesh.

Nothing but a real blood remedy like S. S. S. can reach these deeply rooted, inborn diseases. It goes to the fountain source of the trouble, uproots the old taint, drives out the poisons that have been lurking in the blood for years, and tones up the weakly constitution.

S. S. S. reaches diseases of this character that no other medicine does or can. It has been tested in thousands of cases during the nearly fifty years of its existence, and its reputation as a cure for chronic blood troubles is firmly established.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and suited to old and young and persons of delicate constitution. If you have inherited a predisposition or tendency to some family taint, the sooner you begin a course of S. S. S. the quicker and more certain the cure. The disease may develop in childhood or later on in life, but is sure to make its ap-

THE NEURALGYLINE COMPANY,

Some Famous Correspondents Who Are In the Far East. Handicapped by Strict Censorship - Cablegrams That Cost Over Four Dollars a Word. How Melville E. Stone Secured the Czar's Aid w w

HUS far in the Russo-Japanese The newspapers of America and Europe and the Associated Press are spending enormous sums; scores o" win Emerson, Jr.; Frederick Palmer, William Dinwiddie, H. J. Whigham, amateur golf champion in 1896-7; Bennett Burleigh and a host of others who have won fame in literature and as newspaper writers.

But while trained men have been stationed at every strategic point throughout the war zone they have not been able to break through the rigid censorship established by the belligerents. Practically the only information that has been given to the world has come through the Associated Press.

The success of the Associated Press was made possible by the foresight of Mr. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the organization. Recognizing that perhaps St. Petersburg would be the most important point for news during the war, Mr. Stone early in the present year visited Russia and while there had a personal audience with the czar. At that time he succeeded in assuring the czar that the Associated Press would be impartial in its reports in the event of war and in return received the czar's assurance that the St. Petersburg bureau would be made the medium of transmitting official news of the progress of the war Contrary to the popular idea, the war between Russia and Japan is not welcomed by the newspapers. More copies are sold, but the cost of making the newspaper is vastly increased. A newspaper to keep pace with its contemporaries and give all the news to its readers must maintain a corps of as well as keep in touch with the headsome cases syndicates are formed, but most of the big newspapers of this country have anywhere from three to a dozen skilled writers on their pay-rolls in eastern Asia. The cost of cablegrams is a still heavier item of expense. For instance, from Chefu to New York the cable rate for press dispatches is 42 cents a word, and the same rate is charged from Tientsin and Shanghai. From Port Arthur via the Pacific cable the rate is $1.02 a word, and from Tokyo it costs 54 cents a word to transmit a Chemulpo no press rates are made, and messages must be paid for in advance at the full rate, which is about three times higher. ease and fills in the omitted words. The regulations of the Japanese gov ernment in regard to messages are s source of great annoyance to correspondents and seriously interfere with their work. In Japan all dispatches for points beyond Tokyo must be filed with the censor, properly translated into Japanese. This necessitates that each correspondent be attended by Japanese translator.

Among the best known of the corre spondents now in the east is George Kennan, who will be with the Japabe with the Japanese. In America no correspondent is better known than Richard Harding Davis, whose vivid pen pictures of stirring scenes, written in his picturesque style, dent illustrates the expense of cabling long ago made him famous. While immensely popular as a novelist, Davis 's a war correspondent of high standing. He followed the operations of Tientsin, China, which recounted the the Greco-Turkish, the Spanish-American and the Boer-British wars and covered besides a revolution in Venezuela. Last year he was in Bulgaria during the uprising against the sultan. Not so well known to the general public is William Dinwiddie, governor of Lepanto-Bontoc province, in the Philippines, who is with the Japanese army in Korea. Mr. Dinwiddle has obtained leave of absence from his post in the Philippines. Governor Dinwiddie went to Cuba at the beginning of the Spanish war, subsequently going to the Philippines. When the Boer had been killed. The readers of the war broke out he went to South Africa as a correspondent and photographer for one of the big New York

"WHAT'S BRED IN THE BONE

Is true of mankind as well as lower animals. We do not expect blooded stock from common sires, physical giants from dwarfs and midgets, nor well-developed, robust children from tainted ancestors and sickly parents. It is contrary to the laws of nature and heredity, which are inviolable, unchangeable and fixed.

Children not only inherit the features, form and disposition of their parents, but the mental and physical qualities, infirmities and diseases as well. That certain diseases are transmitted from parents to children, are bred in the bone and handed down from one generation to another, can not be denied, for we see evidences of it every where and every day.

SCROFULA, a disease almost as fatal as Consumption, is a disease of the blood, is bred in the bone and will out in the flesh in the form of glandular swellings, deep abscesses and sores, boils and eruptions. It affects the eyes and ears, weakens the digestion and destroys the red corpuscles and solids of the blood, resulting in emaciation, stunted growth and poorly nourished bodies.

RHEUMATISM is handed down from gouty ancestors and rheumatic parents. The acid poisons in the blood that cause the sharp, shooting pains in muscles and joints have been there may be from birth, and exposure to bad weather, night air, or cold, easterly winds only hastens the attack by exciting the acid blood. The blood must be purified and the poisons filtered out of the system in order to get relief from this painful disease.

CATARRH is something more than a cold in the head; the poison extends into the Throat and Lungs, attacks the Stomach, Kidneys and Bladder, and every part of the system. We inherit a predisposition or tendency to Catarrh, just like other blood diseases; it is bred in the bone and can not be reached with sprays and salves, but requires constitutional treatment and a thorough cleansing of the disease-tainted blood.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON is responsible for more suffering than all other diseases combined, and none is so surely transmitted from parent to child. Fearful ulcers and sores and disgusting skin eruptions often break out in infancy, and those whose blood is tainted with this awful poison are handicapped from birth, and unless the poison is eradicated carry the taint through life.

CANCEROUS ULCERS and old sores seem to pursue some families through generations, and in spite of washes, salves and ointments, continue to spread and grow because the taint is in the blood; is bred in the bone and grounded in the flesh.

Nothing but a real blood remedy like S. S. S. can reach these deeply rooted, inborn diseases. It goes to the fountain source of the trouble, uproots the old taint, drives out the poisons that have been lurking in the blood for years, and tones up the weakly constitution. S. S. S. reaches diseases of this character that no other medicine does or can. It has been tested in thousands of cases during the nearly fifty years of its existence, and its reputation as a cure for chronic blood troubles is firmly established.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and suited to old and young and persons of delicate constitution. If you have inherited a predisposition or tendency to some family taint, the sooner you begin a course of S. S. S. the quicker and more certain the cure. The disease may develop in childhood or later on in life, but is sure to make its appearance sometime, "for what is bred in the bone will out in the flesh," as sure as you live. Our physicians make diseases of the blood and skin a special study. Write us all about your case, and medical advice or any special information desired will cost you nothing.

THE RETURN OF OF THE BIRDS

Joyous Notes of the Feathered Songsters Again Heard in the Land.

LEADERS OF THE HOSTS

Of Winged Visitors Are Already Here Adding Joyousness to the Spring Sunshine-Movements of Bird Life Most Wonderful.

Almost as soon as the first buds be gin to swell, and an occasional balmy breath to bring the langorous feeling that means spring is at hand, when the snowdrifts are still piled high along the fences, and a few feecy clouds rest lightly on the crests of the hills. may be heard the soft, plaintive warble of the bluebird. Dissociated from all that it stands for, it would be a note that we should not pause very long to listen to, perhaps, but mean ing, as it does, to the ear, before the outward and visible signs are apparent in any other way, that the reign of winter is over, it is full of charm and interest. Most things in life derive a large part of their value from

The bluebirds, seemingly no more hardy than many other species, must be more adventurous, or more homeloving, for they always lead the comes trooping back from the south to add melody and color to the sunshine, and to give to orchard and hedgerow, glen and woodland a life and harmony without which they would seem lonely and incomplete. Close behind the bluebirds, sometimes traveling with them, spreading all the way from the Atlantic coast to the Rockies, may be seen the familiar robin, and a little later the flight becomes an endless procession. Sparrows and warblers, larks and buntings, jays and bobolinks, wrens and blackbirds, orioles and finches, skurrying along in great flocks and family parties, pausing to feed and rest as they go, chirping, chattering and singing till the sky is full of music and the landscape alive with fitting beau

These great movements of bird life from North to South and back again interesting things in nature. What a marvelous instinct it is that guides them in this long journey by day and night to just the environment where then brings them back to the very spot where they were born, sometimes to occupy last year's nest again. Nothing about it all is more mysterious than the way in which they distribute themselves. What is it that impels just the right proportion of some species to begin stopping off in Virginia, others to fly along to the Middle States, and still others to push on to New England, and into Canada. so that when they settle down to their domestic affairs there are just enough for the different sections of the country to support? If they were civilized they would crowd together in close settlements, and there would soon be beggars and tramps, starvation and a submerged tenth; but they never do. Some of the aquatic birds nest in great colonies, but it is always where there is room and air, and food enough for all. Rocky islands and inaccessible crags in the Northern seas swarm with ducks and geese, penguins, gulls and tern, whose history and habits are a fascinating study, but who lack the attraction and fail to inspire the affection we feel toward the birds of our summer homes.

Speaking of mystery, to wander ; little from our subject, we have a problem for our readers to solve. It

The bluebirds, seemingly no more hardy than many other species, must shine, and to give to orchard and and harmony without which they would seem lonely and incomplete times traveling with them, spreading all the way from the Atlantic coas to the Rockies, may be seen the familiar robin, and a little later the flight rows and warblers, larks and bunt ings, jays and bobolinks, wrens and blackbirds, orioles and finches, skurrying along in great flocks and family parties, pausing to feed and rest as they go, chirping, chattering and singing till the sky is full of music and the landscape alive with fitting beau marvelous instinct it is that guides them in this long journey by day and then brings them back to the very spot where they were born, sometimes to occupy last year's nest again. Nothing about it all is more mysterious than the way in which they distribselves. What is it that im pels just the right proportion of some species to begin stopping off in Vir ginia, others to fly along to the Middle States, and still others to push on to New England, and into Canada, so that when they settle down to their domestic affairs there are just enough for the different sections of the coun try to support? If they were civilized they would crowd together in close settlements, and there would soon be beggars and tramps, starvation and a submerged tenth; but they never do Some of the aquatic birds nest in great colonies, but it is always where there is room and air, and food enough for all. Rocky islands and inaccessible crags in the Northern seas swarm with ducks and geese, penguins, gulls and bird life, which has spread over the tern, whose history and habits are a fascinating study, but who lack the attraction and fail to inspire the affect tion we feel toward the birds of our summer homes.

Speaking of mystery, to wander little from our subject, we have a problem for our readers to solve. If
